- Click the Register new profile link.

The Register page opens.

- Enter the First and Family (last) Name, Email Address, and Password.
- Verify the information is correct as the email address serves as your username.
- Select the Additional profile details link to display and complete additional (optional) fields.
- Enable the Registered User Agreement checkbox, and click Submit.

There will be a pause while the system creates the profile. When finished, you will be logged in with your new credentials and taken to the ExpertPath home page.

You now have an Elsevier login. You can use this login to register any other Elsevier applications to which you have access.
